Employment Rates*

Speech-Language Pathology
2012-13: 18 out of 18 students are employed, 100%
2011-12: 28 out of 28 students are employed, 100%
2010-11: 27 out of 27 students are employed, 100%

Audiology
2012-13: 4 out of 4 students are employed, 100%
2011-12: 5 out of 5 students are employed, 100%
2010-11: 5 out of 5 students are employed, 100%

During the last three academic years, 100% of speech-language pathology and 100% of audiology students enrolled in our graduate professional degrees have secured employment within one year of graduation.

*Data collected informally from students
Includes data for graduates pursuing private practice
One student from this cohort chose not to respond

Program Completion Rates

Speech-Language Pathology
2012-13: 19 out of 19 students completed the program on time, 100%
2011-12: 29 out of 29 students completed the program on time, 100%
2010-11: 28 out of 29 students completed the program on time, 96.6%

Audiology
2012-13: 5 out of 6 students completed the program on time, 83.3%
2011-12: 5 out of 6 students completed the program on time, 83.3%
2010-11: 5 out of 5 students completed the program on time, 100%

During the last three academic years, an average of 93.9% of students who initiated studies in our graduate professional degrees completed their education within the expected time frame and achieved the M.A. in Speech-Language-Hearing Sciences (Speech-Language Pathology track) or the Au.D. in Audiology.

PRAXIS

Speech-Language Pathology
2012-13: 19 out of 19 students passed, 100%
2011-12: 32 out of 32 students passed, 100%
2010-11: 30 out of 30 students passed, 100%

Audiology
2012-13: 5 out of 5 students passed, 100%
2011-12: 6 out of 6 students passed, 100%
2010-11: 1 out of 1 students passed, 100%

During the last three academic years, an average of 100% of speech-language pathology and audiology students passed the PRAXIS exam. See http://www.asha.org/students/praxis/ for information from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association about PRAXIS.